The Department of Business Administration and Economics at Simpson College seeks an Assistant Professor of Economics for a tenure-track position beginning on or around August 25, 2020. Applicants with a Ph.D. are preferred, although individuals with ABD will be considered. The candidate will teach in a variety of areas, with emphasis on macroeconomics, international economics, finance and analytics. The teaching load is six courses per year.

Simpson College encourages innovative teaching and seeks colleague who will help its students of all ages develop critical intellectual skills, nurture values which foster personal worth and individuality for the purposes of living lives of leadership within a creative and diverse community. The main campus is located in the Des Metropolitan Area, just 15 minutes from the capital.

Priority review of applications will begin on January 20, 2020, and continue until this position is filled. Applicants should send a cover letter, current curriculum vita, copy of graduate transcript, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a one to two page description of innovative teaching methods used in the classroom, and arrange for three letters of recommendation to be sent to: employment@simpson.edu with the subject line: ECONOMIC SEARCH.

Prof. Mark Juffernbruch, Chair
Department of Business Administration and Economics
Simpson College

Simpson College aims to provide equal educational and employment opportunities to all. We encourage applications from women, minorities, and persons with disabilities. The successful applicant will show a commitment to cultural diversity and an ability to work with students and staff of diverse backgrounds. The entire Notice of Non-Discrimination can be found here.