

Simpson College Department of Music
Policy regarding
US Copyright Law

Books, printed music, audio-visual, and online materials are protected under the United States Copyright law (Title 17 U.S. Code). Students should be aware of this law and of their individual responsibility, and that of the college, to comply with it. Therefore and when applicable, students will purchase scores for choral, opera, and solo performances.